NEW EXECUTIVE MEMBER NEEDED

Your executive has been elected at the annual meeting as below but we still need more members for ideas and we would like to add a "member at large" to our team— the more ideas we get the better!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's going to be an exhilarating season for the Windsor Centre, with a number of public events planned, and others that we project will be of interest and value to our members. As well as these, we want your input and ideas for meetings in the winter. I'm energized by what's coming, because it's possible only as a result of the spirit of working together that marks our Centre. In this, your executive leads the way in particular.

As we begin the season, we remember fondly Joanne Quimby, who passed away earlier in the summer. Joanne's warmth, her concern for others and her willingness to take on positions of responsibility in the centre made us much the stronger as a group. Her gifts are greatly missed. She served as Centre President for a number of years, and followed that, as Past-President, by chairing the Nominating Committee.

Along with her good friend, Judy Boutin, she performed often at members' recitals and at Hymn Tasting and other events. In response to the outpouring of tributes to Joanne, not least of which were substantial donations to the RCCO in her memory, I am pleased to announce that your executive has approved a scholarship in her name. Details of the award, to benefit the professional development of members, will be forthcoming.

Two events this fall promise to be stirring. On Sunday, October 30 at 3 pm at Bedford United, a theatre-organ concert will showcase Windsor's newest pipe-digital organ. Ron Dossenbach, Music Director at Bedford, and colleague Bob Nagy will be joined by well-known Detroit theatre organists John Lauter and Tony O'Brian for a fun-filled afternoon.

Come Sing Messiah moves to the county this time around.

We are delighted that Paul Wharram, Conductor of the County Classic Chorale, will conduct this year's sing-along. Anyone who loves to sing Messiah is welcome to join the singing audience. Student soloists are being selected by audition. Mark the date and tell your choirs (see the attached flier for rehearsal times): Sunday, November 13 at 3 pm, in Epworth United Church.

In closing, I look forward to seeing you all at our Spaghetti Dinner and Anthem-Reading meeting on September 25 at Riverside United Church. Thank-you once again, Judy and Margita!

David Palmer

Due to the untimely passing of our organist, Joanne Quimby, The Church of Epiphany (Anglican) in Kingsville, ON is seeking an organist to join our parish family and lead our worshipping congregation. The church has a two manual Woodstock Organ and an upright Baldwin Piano both in excellent condition. We are seeking an organist who will work alongside our choir director in providing leadership at the 10:30 AM service on Sunday mornings and at our Thursday evening choir practices for 35 weeks a year. Remuneration for this part time position will be consistent with RCCO guidelines. Please send your résumé to Church of the Epiphany, 96 Main Street West, Kingsville, ON N9Y 1H3. or via email: epiphanykingsville@bellnet.ca. Check us out at epiphanykingsville.org.
